IE University
IE BUSINESS SCHOOL
Finance Department
Positions in Finance
Assistant Professor

The Finance Department of the IE University's graduate school of business- IE Business School (www.ie.edu) is seeking candidates in all areas of finance for several full-time tenure track positions at the Assistant Professor level beginning September 2017.

The successful candidate will be expected to publish in top-tier peer-reviewed international journals and to develop into an excellent teacher in our programs. Teaching opportunities are available at high level MBA, Master in Finance, Master in Advanced Finance, Executive Education and Undergraduate level. Our professors are expected to interact and work closely with faculty from other disciplines, and to provide intellectual leadership in their area.

Applicants will have an outstanding record in a PhD program in Finance or Economics (with strong research credentials in Finance) from a recognized school. Entry level candidates can be close to completion. Previous experience in teaching is a plus, proficiency in Spanish is desirable, but NOT required. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

About the school:

The level of quality of IE master's and executive education programs has positioned the school among the best in the world, according to international rankings including Financial Times, BusinessWeek, Forbes, The Economist, Aspen Institute and América Economía. IE faculty is comprised of multi-cultural, exceptional, young and dynamic scholars from all areas of management, who help our students to develop their full potential from different perspectives. IE is located in Madrid, Spain, in the heart of the financial district. Madrid is a vibrant, modern and cosmopolitan capital city of 5+ million that offers an enormous range of professional growth and leisure opportunities.
